

Student Travel to Required Rotation Sites Policy

The majority of clinical rotations occur in a variety of locations which may require additional travel and housing expenses. For example, students may be required to do up to two rotations that are more than 500 miles from the program. Transportation, parking, and housing expenses are the responsibility of each student.